

Dawn Walter Gagliano

Principal Investigator, Archaeology

3520 Teays Valley Road, Suite 5 ● Hurricane, WV 25526 ● Phone: 681.233.4044 ● dgagliano@ascgroup.net

PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Ms. Walter Gagliano utilizes her two decades of experience in heritage management and curation to execute awarded projects and bring projects to completion for clients. As the Principal Investigator in Archaeology for the West Virginia Region, she is responsible for managing clients and field staff on both large and small Section 106 review projects. Ms. Walter Gagliano has specialized training in remote sensing, (magnetometer and resistivity); lithic and microwear analysis; historic and prehistoric artifacts; conservation/preservation; and curation.

Education

West Virginia University
BA Anthropology
1992

University College, London
Institute of Archaeology
MA Archaeology
1997

Certifications

Principal Investigator
Archaeology: Prehistoric,
Ohio (2011)

Principal Investigator
Archaeology: Prehistoric/
Historic, West Virginia
(2011)

Principal Investigator
Archaeology: Prehistoric/
Historic, Kentucky
(2015)

Principal Investigator
Archaeology: Prehistoric/
Historic, Indiana
(2016)

EXPERTISE

- Heritage Management
- Preservation and Curation
- Remote Sensing

SELECTED PROJECT EXPERIENCE

- Mountain Valley Pipeline (MVP), West Virginia. As Principal Investigator, managed and scheduled numerous field crews and data management.
- Wellsburg Bridge Replacement, West Virginia. As Principal Investigator, conducted fieldwork and wrote report.
- Columbus Southerly Waste Water Treatment Plant Capital Improvement Project, Franklin County, Ohio. Supervisor for archaeological fieldwork and was lead author of report. Prepared data recovery plan for mitigation.
- Dessecker Mine Reclamation Project, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. Principal Investigator for NRHP evaluation and Ohio Historic Property Inventory. Conducted field work, prepared forms and lead author of report.